

Birzeit University's Institute of Women's Studies' 5th annual conference

Education for Liberation and Social Justice

This conference explores educational issues in their articulation with social, economic and political structures. The conference seeks to draw a preliminary theoretical frame for directing education and knowledge production in colonial Palestine towards liberation and social justice. By situating the issue of education within the wider context of Palestine's contemporary colonial, neoliberal and gendered power structures the conference aims to provide a forum for reflection, debate and new thinking among the array of actors interested in education.